Loch Lomond's Ultimate Destination

The beautiful village of Balmaha is located on the eastern shores of Loch Lomond. The famous long distance West Highland Way walk passes through the village, making it a popular stopping point. At the heart of Balmaha is The Oak Tree Inn, which along with the spectacular scenery on its doorstep is a draw for many visitors. The Inn has won many top awards and is considered one of Scotland's best country pubs for food and drink.

There is a great emphasis on serving quality local food and drink and you will find locally brewed beers, cider and an extensive whisky bar. The Oak Tree was the first in Loch Lomond to produce home-made ice cream and roast their own coffee. This is served in St Mocha Coffee Shop & Ice Cream parlour, which along with a village shop sit next to The Oak Tree.

A new pontoon offers increased water bus transfers around the loch and daily cruises. There is also great scenery to explore, with Inchcailloch Island and Conic Hill close by. B&B accommodation is popular year round with rooms above the inn and in a series of cottages.

Come and see for yourself why this is undoubtedly Loch Lomond's ultimate destination.
